PROGRAM OVERVIEW

UK's shipping laws are complex with overlapping domestic statutes, international regulations, and multi-national conventions. Since Brexit, the UK has also undergone seismic shifts in its regulatory environment, further complicating the landscape. Moreover, multiple agencies such as HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC), Maritime and Coastguard Agency (MCA), and the Department for Transport regulate and oversee shipping activities, each bringing its own sets of rules and requirements, making it even more difficult for maritime leaders to comply with the latest regulations and legislations.

This certified program will provide you with an exhaustive understanding of the intricacies of UK shipping law and key international regulations and conventions influencing it. You will gain knowledge on a broad spectrum of crucial subjects, including Maritime Safety Laws, Environmental Regulations, Maritime Security Laws, and International Maritime Conventions such as SOLAS (Safety of Life at Sea) and MARPOL (International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships). Additionally, this program will delve into the Maritime Labour Convention, addressing seafarer's rights and employment conditions, and the intricate interplay between these international conventions and UK-specific shipping laws.
