ASSOCIATION PARTNER

The Australian Institute of Landscape Architects (AILA) leads a dynamic and respected profession: creating great places to support healthy communities and a sustainable planet. As the Australian peak body for Landscape Architecture, we support our members in working towards these goals every day. Self-sustaining landscapes are essential to our planet. As landscape architects, we act to protect and sustain these landscapes, taking a thoughtful approach to their change. We resolve to restore damaged landscapes to health. We recognise each landscape is best cared for by the community as a whole. We work to reveal the value of each landscape to all people so that they can work in its best interests. We work together with the community and other professionals to reach the best outcomes for each place. Find out more at www.aila.org.au.
